Rouzen's Chapel, Hanover county, when, at noon on Wednesday, October 21st, Mr. Robert Henry Fennell, of Richmond, led to the altar Miss Mary Hallie Beazley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beazley, of Hanover county.

The bride was becomingly attired in a going-away gown of Copenhagen blue, and carried a bride's roses. Miss Fannie Maddox acted as maid of honor, and Mr. Charles D. Chambers, of Warsaw, N. C., as best man. Mr. Maddox Beazley, brother of the bride, and Mr. Hugh Fennell, brother of the groom, were the ushers.

The church was tastefully decorated in evergreens, mingled with all the varied and beautiful shades of autumn leaves. The Rev. Dr. D. K. Walthall, of Richmond, performed the ceremony, and Mrs. Dillard presided at the organ. At the conclusion of the ceremony luncheon was served in the home of the bride, after which the happy pair left for a Northern bride's tour.

On their return they will make their home at Highland Park, Richmond, where the groom has resided for some time. Among those present at the wedding who came from a distance were Mrs. Jane Fennell, of Richmond, Va., the mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Fennell, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Fennell, of Richmond; Miss Mary V. Fennell, of Clifton Forge, Va.; Misses Bessie and Annie Sutton, of Richmond; and Mr. and Mrs. Wright, of Elmont, Va.

Every Monday Club.
The Every Monday Club, which had its first autumn meeting with its president, Mrs. A. L. Stratford, on October 19th, has turned its mind to serious and practical subjects for the ensuing year, as its following outline of work will show:

Club members will meet to-morrow with Mrs. George Harvey Clarke, who will discuss "Psychology and the Child." Mrs. R. J. Willingham will be club hostess on November 2d, and Mrs. John T. Butler will take up "Current Events and Book Reviews."
Mrs. Benjamin T. Crump, with whom the club will meet on November 9th, will consider "Household Bacteriology." Mrs. Francis S. Woodson comes next on the hostess list for November 16th, when Mrs. William E. Crawford will call attention to "Chemistry the Housewife Should Know."

On November 23d Mrs. R. E. Gaines's home will be the place for the club meeting, and Miss Daisy Winston's subject will be "Food and Dietetics." Mrs. George W. McDaniel will be hostess for November 30th, and Mrs. G. M. P. King will present her views on "Household Economy."

"Current Events and Book Reviews" will be noted by Miss Caroline Holladay on December 7th, when the club is to meet with Mrs. J. P. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas W. Murrell is the hostess scheduled for December 14th, and Mrs. Murrell herself will discuss "Personal Hygiene."

Mrs. J. Willard Craig will have the club in her home on December 28th, when she will talk about "Clothing and the Art of Dressing." On January 4th the meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. A. L. Stratford, and members of the club will have the pleasure of hearing the Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore talk on "The Bible in the Light of Modern Exploration." Other hostesses and subjects will be Mrs. J. C. Metcalf, January 11th, with Mrs. Julian P. Thomas to discuss "Growth of the German Race and Language"; Mrs. William E. Crawford, January 18th, with Mrs. J. Borton Hill to talk about

"The Old German Empire, Ending in 1866"; Miss Daisy Winston, January 25th, with Miss Ruth Sublett to consider "The Confederation of the German States"; Mrs. H. H. Smith, February 1st, with Mrs. A. W. Patterson to present "Current Events and Book Reviews"; Mrs. R. J. Willingham, February 8th, with Mrs. George W. McDaniel to discuss "The New German Empire"; Miss Caroline Holladay, February 15th, with Mrs. F. S. Woodson to talk about "Luther's Influence Upon the German Language and Literature"; Miss Ruth Sublett, February 22d, and Mrs. Harry H. Smith to consider "Lessing: Klopstock"; Mrs. W. H. Smith, March 1st, with Mrs. A. L. Stratford to present "Current Events and Book Reviews"; Mrs. Josephine Trevillian, March 8th, with Mrs. E. C. Bingham to talk on "Goethe"; Miss Mary Sue Dew, March 15th, with Mrs. R. E. Gaines to "Contrast Schiller With Goethe"; Mrs. A. W. Patterson, March 22d, with Mrs. W. H. Smith to take up the "Romantic School—Richter, Tieck, Fouque"; Mrs. J. W. Craig, March 29th, with Mrs. Josephine Trevillian, subject, "Werner: Heine"; Mrs. E. C. Bingham, April 5th, with Dr. Bingham, subject, "German Universities"; Miss Ruth Sublett, April 12th, with Mrs. S. C. Mitchell, subject, "Art"; Mrs. R. E. Gaines, April 19th, with Mrs. J. T. Butler, subject, "Growth of the German Drama: Wagner"; Mrs. G. M. P. King, April 26th, with Mrs. J. C. Metcalf, subject, "The National Novel"; Mrs. J. B. Hill, May 3d, with Miss Mary Sue Dew to give "A Comparative Estimate of German Literature."

The final meeting will be held May 10th. A feature of the program is a memorial page to Mrs. Basil M. Gwathmey.

Hill-Irby.
From Denver, Col., has come an interesting account, given below, of the marriage of a Virginia girl, a sister of Mr. John S. Irby, for several years officially connected with the Richmond

Times, and still pleasantly remembered by many Richmond friends. The notice follows:

Miss Eva Lucille Irby, of Vernon, Hill, Va., and Mr. Prescott Farnsworth Hall, of Boston, Mass., were married in Denver, Col., October 20th, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. John S. Irby. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Dr. David Utter, of the First Unitarian Church.

Miss Irby, who has made her home in Boston during the past two years, was on a visit to her brother in Denver, and expected to spend the winter. Mr. Hall, to whom she was engaged, paid her a visit, and it was decided that the wedding take place at once. It was a very quiet affair, only Mr. and Mrs. Irby being present. Miss Irby is a daughter of Captain Meade A. Irby, of Halifax county, Va., a planter and tobaccoist. She is accomplished and handsome. Mr. Hall is a lawyer and author. He graduated from Harvard in the class of 1888. He is a student and statistician, and is the author of several volumes on American problems that are authoritative. His works of law are widely read among New England attorneys and jurists. He has made an especial study of immigration, and his publications on that subject are standard. Immediately after the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hall left for Boston.

McComb-Smithlie.
The marriage of Mr. M. Henderson McComb, of Stuart's Draft, Augusta county, and Miss Annie Winston Smithlie, of Richmond, took place at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning in the home of Mr. George R. Smithlie, No. 408 North Twenty-fourth Street. Palms and flowers formed the decoration. The music was directed by Miss Sally Hancock, and Miss Bessie Dean sang a solo.

Mrs. G. R. Smithlie was matron of honor, and Mr. G. N. McComb best man. Little Miss Helen Ferguson was flower girl, and Messrs. Hancock, Willis and Carter the ushers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. H. Potts. The matron of honor wore white and carried white chrysanthemums. The bride was gowned in blue cloth. Her flowers were a shower of bride's roses.

The young couple left after their marriage for a Western trip. They received a number of handsome wedding gifts.

Exhibit at Art Club.
Beginning on Tuesday, November 17th, there will be held at the Art Club of Richmond, No. 521 West Grace Street, an exhibition of the work of Richmond artists who are members of the club.

Much interest is being shown in the movement, as there has been nothing of the kind here for some years. A unique feature will be the fake pictures, which will be hung at the same time in another room. These will consist of the work of the students of the school, each canvas or sketch being a take-off or caricature of the most prominent work in the exhibition. There will be a large reception on the opening night, when a prize of $5 will be awarded the best fake picture. The presentation will be made by one of Richmond's best wits.

Talk on Austrian Tyrol.
Miss Maria Blair will give a delightful talk on "The Austrian Tyrol" Thursday evening, October 29th, in the lecture room of First Presbyterian Church.

Personal Mention.
